Dear Allan and Perry,

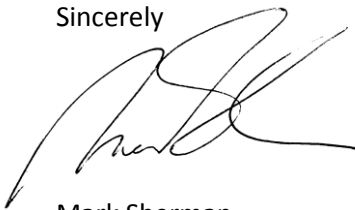

You've recently completed a third build for me, what greater testimonial is there of a satisfied customer.

My prior experience with General Contractors was that they were simply not committed to customer's satisfaction because repeat business just wasn't part of their business model. Westgrove disrupts the general contractor paradigm, you have, on each and every job, cared about my home, about my office space, as if it were your own. It is because of this transparent work ethic and passion for excellence that I keep coming back.

I'm a stickler for detail and Westgrove has never failed me. You've consistently brought sub trades who perform excellent work, on time and on budget, no surprises and no disappointments. Your project manager's always put my interest first with little fuss or muss.

Allan, Perry, you should be so proud of your team, I wish you much success, you deserve it!

Sincerely

Mark Sherman
